City Investigating Councilman: Possible Conflict of Interest

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Daly City Councilman Paul Hupf Monday formally notified the city under provisions of Section 33130, Health and Safety Code, that he is a property owner in the city's redevelopment project area.

The letter addressed to City Clerk Anna Ohlendorf, along with a verbal explanation of his ownership in the property at 7316 Mission St., came in the wake of published reports in The San Mateo Times concerning Hupf's and attorney Frank Blum Jr.'s acquisition of the parcel.

Hupf told The Post he had decided to buy the property — a former ambulance station — in late March of this year.

No attempt was made to "hide" the purchase, Hupf said. The sale was filed with the appropriate county offices on April 26.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky confirmed he is investigating two separate actions involving the matter.

Daly City's Redevelopment Agency is made up of City Council members.

Blum is a one-fourth owner of the property at 7316 Mission St. along with Hupf, his wife, Virginia and Blum's wife, Rose.

The property was purchased by Hupf from realtor William Lagomarsino.

He paid some $63,000 for the small parcel, pointing out that he and Blum, son of Superior Court Judge Frank Blum, likely will have to expend another $37,000-$50,000 to put the somewhat dilapidated structure in suitable condition for his law offices.

The law firm of Hupf, Etcheverry and Blum now is located in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Hupf said his firm has outgrown that office and he has been looking for another location "for some time."

Asked why he decided to buy in the heart of the redevelopment area, which could negate his voting on the redevelopment matters in the future, Hupf said, "I felt this was an expression of my faith in Mission Street."

The attorney said he already had hired architect Howard Friedman to draft plans for rehabilitation of the property.

On the subject of Daly City municipal departments improving and widening a driveway, and installing flower planter boxes along the driveway leading to a rear parking lot, Hupf said the city had approached him on the matter and asked if he would agree to cooperate with them on the project.

The city widened the driveway on the south side of Hupf's property from Mission Street to the parking lot from some 5½ feet to more than 11 feet.

Planter boxes have been installed and landscaped along Hupf's section of the driveway.

There is another driveway north of Hupf's property which gives access to the rear of his building, the attorney pointed out.

"I was asked if I would concede some property to improve access to the (municipal) parking lot and I agreed," Hupf said.

The agreement between Hupf and city staff included issuance of a revokable right-of-entry and the planter boxes to divert any water or vehicles from jumping the sidewalk and going into his building.

Some 42 parking spaces are being leased by the city for $100 month from George Smith and Frank Gigli.

Gigli said the parking lot has two curb cuts in the rear (off Bruno Street) and the existing driveway off Mission Street — before widening — was adequate in his estimation.

Cost of improving the driveway (some six feet) on Hupf's property was estimated by the city staff at $690.16, including labor, material and equipment.

Both Smith and Gigli are on the Project Area Committee entrusted with advising the City Council on the future of the two redevelopment areas — Junipero Serra Blvd. and Mission Street (from the top of the hill south of San Pedro-East Market Street).

This Project Area Committee, appointed and selected by the City Council Redevelopment Agency, is made up of 22 members either owning property within the project area or tenants in the area.

The committee held its first meeting on May 7, 1974 attended by Mayor McRobert Stewart and Councilmen William Schumacher and Hupf.

Records on file with the city, and at the redevelopment agency offices, indicate Hupf has from time to time taken action on matters affecting the project area, that could have a bearing on the future of his properties.

Polonsky admitted last week he could offer no opinions on the issue "at least not until I talk with (councilman) Paul Hupf . . . he's out of town and I cannot reach him to verify any dates."

There are a "lot of ambiguities" in the matter, Polonsky said, and much will depend on when Hupf actually started negotiating for purchase of the property, actions taken (if any) as a councilman and as a redevelopment agency director that affect the project areas.

The Post learned that while Hupf did not attend a Redevelopment Agency meeting on July 1, 1974 at 6 p.m., he did attend a later council meeting and voted to appropriate some $121,900 (resolution No. 74-150) to fund the RA for another year.

On April 15, 1974 — some 10 days before filing the purchase of land — Hupf voted to establish the Project Area Committee as directed under Redevelopment Law (Resolution No. 219).

He also voted on a General Plan Amendment (resolution 73-124) encompassing redevelopment in the city.

When the "Preliminary Draft Plan" for the project areas was handed over to the RA on May 28, 1974, Hupf was absent.

The making of the boundaries for the present project areas have undergone sev-

DC Man Held in Slaying

Daly City police today were continuing their investigation of a bizarre stabbing that took place in a small apartment unit at 44 Westlake Ave. Sunday.

The body of Gordon H. Begeman, 52, a San Francisco booksalesman, was found Monday night fully clothed lying on his bed attired in unsoiled clothing, police said.

He had been stabbed with a kitchen meat knife 15 times, according to coroner's investigator Bob Cole.

Cole said all traces of blood had been cleaned up, allegedly by Begeman's roommate, Everett Schliz.

Police responded to the address Monday about 4:30 p.m. after receiving an anonymous phone call that there had been a killing.

According to reports, police found Schliz, 32, sitting quietly smoking a cigarette with the body of his alleged victim lying on the bed nearby.

Schliz had apparently tried to commit suicide by stabbing himself in the chest and slashing his wrists after allegedly killing Begeman during an argument, police said.

He was taken to Mary's Help Hospital under police guard for treatment of his injuries. He was reported in good condition by hospital officials.

FIREMEN COMMENDED

Daly City Police Chief David Hansen has sent a letter to Fire Chief Keith Shrock commending him and four firemen for a rescue operation at the Cow Palace. The letter stated that at a recent Cow Palace concert a spectator, apparently under the influence of narcotics, climbed to the catwalk high above the floor of the auditorium and subsequently passed out. Firemen were summoned and climbed to the catwalk to lower the person to the ground. At one point the man regained consciousness and struggled with the firemen. Pictured looking over harness gear used during the rescue are those firemen who were commended (from left) Robert O'Donnell, Frank Regan, and Steve O'Connor. Capt. Don Campbell, who also took part in the rescue is on vacation.

Council Asked to Prohibit Hang Gliding in Daly City

Leland Kojar has a hangup on hang gliders.

He told the Daly City City Council Monday during an informal public study session that he was opposed to allowing "these things" in his neighborhood.

Kojar lives at 62 Hillview Court, the area a hang glider enthusiast was fatally injured when he lost control of his "wing" last year and plunged into some high tension wires.

To date, there have been three deaths in the North County area involving the so-called "Rogallo Wings," invented for the purpose of allowing space vehicles to float to a safe landing after re-entry from outer planets.

The council has a request before it to allow a hang glider launch site in the Palisades Park area along the cliffs overlooking Thornton Beach.

There has been only one injury in this area — the San Jose youth who was considered inexperienced and fell into the wires behind a row of nearby homes.

But Kojar said the death was a traumatic experience for both him and his wife.

The retired government employe, who informed the city he was an attorney, spoke for some 45 minutes on the issue of banning the gliderists from participating in the new sport in this area.

Included in Kojar's complaints were allegations that burglaries have increased in the neighborhood; traffic has increased; the youths have trampled the flora and fauna along the cliff face increasing possibility of erosion, and visual pollution from the gliders passing between him and the skyline.

Support for the sport came from Kojar's neighbor, Jim Whitfeld, who lives directly on the cliff.

He said for the past several months — since the city banned gliderists from using Palisades Park — he has allowed flyers to gain access to the cliff through his yard.

"They are known to my family and myself and I consider them to be perfect gentlemen. I trust them and I like their sport," Whitfeld said.

Assistant city manager Raymond Letsinger urged the council to "explore the possibility . . . of entering into an agreement with the 'Fellow Feathers.'"

The Fellow Feathers is a local flying club that strictly regulates its members on where and when they can fly, the council was told.

Mayor McRobert Stewart said public hearings on the

Nice Day For Stroll

It seemed like such a nice day for a stroll through Brisbane Thursday, "Kenny Jones" explained to police chief Bud Martini and officer Al Duerson.

The two Brisbane police officers came upon Jones walking down Humboldt Road about 5 p.m. wearing a big grin — and nothing else.

"He didn't even have a hat or shoes on," the chief said.

Chief Martini asked Jones what he was doing?

"Taking a little stroll."

"Do you always walk in the nude?" the chief asked.

"Not always. If I happen to be wearing clothes when I feel like walking, I wear clothes."

"Would you like to get in the police car and ride downtown?"

"Not really. It's such a nice day for a stroll."

Jones, if that's his real name, did not tell police where he resided or how old he is.

Funding for Senior Citizens Housing Project Expected

A committment for FHA funding of a proposed senior citizens housing project in the East Market Street area of Daly City is expected within three weeks, developer Philip B. Wallace told the City Council Monday.

The complex, granted a use permit and variance for parking in July 1973, has been "in the works" for more than a year, Wallace pointed out.

He asked the council for a six month extension on his permits.

The council is expected to go along with Wallace on the request.

Mayor McRobert Stewart said "we are extremely interested in seeing this (complex) completed."

Once the projects gets underway, Wallace said, it is expected to be completed within 14 months, "weather permitting."

Wallace said he has already invested some $60,000 in architectural fees, "above and beyond the cost of the land," and would not give up on the plan despite repeated funding setbacks administered by the government during the past year.

Groundbreaking is now scheduled for late September, Wallace told the council at the Monday study session.

The Traffic Committee of the City of Daly City has recommended the following:

—Establish a four-hour parking zone in the Marchbanks Park parking lot; —

—Establish a 3-way stop intersection at Morton Drive and Simpson Drive; and,

—Establish a No U-turn at the intersection of John Daly Boulevard and Dorchester.

Hang Glider Crashes; Victim Donates Heart

A 15-year-old boy is in stable condition at the Stanford University Medical Center today after undergoing a successful heart transplant from a San Jose man who was fatally injured in a fall in Pacifica.

According to hospital officials, the heart transplant, performed by Dr. Norman Shumway, is the 74th such operation performed at the medical center, and the boy is the youngest person ever to receive the heart of a donor.

Hospital officials would not release the name of the youth, stating only his age and that he is "from a prominent family from the East Coast."

"This is an extremely touchy situation," commented one hospital spokesman. "Something was set up by the hierarchy of the hospital, and we have been told not to talk about it."

CANDIDATE FOR THE JUNK PILE

The driver of this sports car was seriously injured Thursday night in an accident that occured at the Produce Avenue on-ramp to the Bayshore Freeway in South San Francisco. The driver, Richard Buttrey of Merced, was rushed to Peninsula Hospital, where he is reported to be in satisfactory condition. His passenger, Susan Jeffers, 22, also of Merced, was treated at the hospital and released. A California Highway Patrol spokesman said Buttrey was charged with felony drunken driving.

eral amendments since Hupf has been on the council.

Some two years ago, the City Council took the bull by the horns and declared a major portion of "Old Daly City," easterly of the Junipero Serra Freeway, as a "redevelopment study area."

A 25-member citizens advisory committee was established by the council/RA and, on October 26, 1972 they handed over a revised area — which included properties south of Jefferson High School.

Hupf's property is about three blocks south of the school.

The RA then sent the revised plans to the Planning Commission and after a series of heated public hearings lasting from Feb. 12, 1973 until Aug. 19, 1973, cut back the project areas and handed it back to the RA.

The RA took no action on the matter until they assumed their roles as city councilmen.

Then, following more public hearings and heated debates, the RA scratched all residential areas from the redevelopment plan, but included the Junipero Serra Boulevard and extended the Mission Street redevelopment area down to Market Street.

On Nov. 26, 1973 — some six months ago — the council sent the revised draft back to the Planning Commission and instructed that five member body to rubber stamp it, after receiving an opinion from Polonsky on redevelopment procedure.

Water Rate Decision Delayed

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors postponed action Monday on a controversial proposal to increase Peninsula water bills 20.5 per cent and San Francisco water bills 14.5 per cent.

The board gave no reason for the postponement of the proposal and rescheduled the matter for the next board meeting at 2 p.m. Aug. 26.

The proposal to establish the discriminatory rates for San Francisco and Peninsula residents was made last week by the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission.

The San Francisco PUC recommended the discriminatory water bill rates after the board had previously rejected an initial PUC proposal for a 17.4 per cent across-the-board increase in water rates for residents of both San Francisco and the Peninsula.

Hang Glider

The same spokesman did say the youth had been at the medical center "a couple of days" before the transplant operation.

Officials at the hospital would neither confirm nor deny that the donor was Albert Gregory Lorincz, a 24-year-old San Jose man critically injured in a hang-glider crash in Pacifica last Sunday afternoon. But Lorincz' widow, Kerry, confirmed Monday that her husband indeed had been the donor.

According to Pacifica police, Lorincz sustained massive head injuries when his hang-glider crashed to the concrete 500 feet from where he jumped on a hill overlooking Oceana High School.

Hiring Practices Investigated

An in-depth investigation of the hiring practices of the entire San Mateo Junior College District will be made by the county's Human Relations Commission.

This was the decision reached by commission members at their meeting in Redwood City Thursday night.

The decision came after the commission received a letter from Mrs. Zelte Crawford, chairman of the ethnic studies division of the College of San Mateo. She charged that some staff members of the division have been threatened with the loss of their jobs and one faculty member has already been dismissed "because of our participation at the board meetings."

"Since 1969," Mrs. Crawford wrote, "and at the present time our division possesses:

"1. No full-time division chairman.

"2. No full-time faculty.

"3. A one-quarter time secretary.

"4. Two offices that serve a total of 14 to 17 persons each semester.

"5. A record of negative responses toward innovative approaches and programs designed to meet the diversified needs of the Ethnic Student population, especially Blacks and Latino-Chicanos.

"6. No tenured faculty.

"7. The lowest budget allocation in the entire college for an academic division."

"If racism exists in the district," the letter continued, "the College of San Mateo must have the dubious distinction of being the forerunner.

"Its Chicano-Latino and Black student enrollment has shown a constant decrease in spite of the large influx of persons from these groups into the county. The racism has ranged at the College from overt acts of discrimination in grading students and the use of racial slurs in the classroom to enrollment areas. For example, there is no full-time counselor at the College who is Black outside of the College Readiness Program. Students have complained of being misled during registration and paying non-resident fees even while they were in fact legal residents of the county."

Mrs. Crawford complained that Dr. David H. Mertes, college president, and his staff have been asked for help on numerous occasions. Despite his promise that he would support her recommendations, Mrs. Crawford wrote, "However, he showed bad faith by denying all the recommendations coming out of (a study of the problem) including additional budgetary support.

"This was the final straw. After all the time I spent and energy plus working assumption of support from his office, I decided to make the stance of the college a public issue."

"This is a public problem; not a private concern," Commissioner Thomas C. Taylor commented.

"Now this complaint from the College of San Mateo gives us the impetus to really get into this," Commissioner Leonard Thomas added. He said the commission had already "bound itself" into a long range investigation of the junior college district after extensive complaints were heard at a previous meeting about Canada College practices.

James Forrest, executive director of the commission, agreed that even though his staff is behind in its investigations because one member is on vacation and another was injured in an auto accident, "we should continue the investigation at the College of San Mateo, Skyline College and of the district and see if there are problems. Then we can say, 'This is what should be done.'"

"The college district can put us on a merry-go-round," Thomas warned. "We can go to Canada, and they will say it's the district.

Council

matter would be held, possibly next week, after more investigations and surveys are made.

If the studies favor allowing gliderists to use the Palisades Park area, under strict supervision by flying experts, it would not be on a permanent basis, Letsinger said.

"You might say it would be a 'pilot project.'" Letsinger said.

He said such a move would be "better than rejecting out of hand" the club's request to participate in the popular new sport.

DC Man Found Dead

An elderly Daly City man committed suicide at Mary's Help Hospital Thursday morning by pulling a plastic bag over his head while hospital personnel were busy elsewhere, hospital officials report.

Investigators said William C. Decatur, 64, of 716 Eighth St., wrote part of the 23rd Psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want . . ." as he lay dying.

Coroner's investigator Steve Hrtin said Decatur died between 6-7 a.m. Thursday, apparently from suffocation.

He had been in the hospital for treatment of a respiratory ailment since May 29.

His wife, Henrietta, was being treated two floors below in the hospital's orthopedic ward at the time of her husband's death, according to police.

Police said Decatur tied a plastic laundry bag overhis head.

Nurses found Decatur dead during their early morning rounds.

Daly City Woman Is Charged

Police arrested Mrs. Lillie Washington, 55, of 201 Mariposa Ave., Daly City last Tuesday after she allegedly slashed her husband twice during an argument inside a car at Westlake and Junipero Serra Blvd. about 6:30 p.m.

She is being charged with assault with a deadly weapon and was arraigned last Wednesday in North San Mateo County Municipal Court in South San Francisco.

Police said they did not know how the argument started.

Brisbane Man Shot

A 26-year-old Brisbane man accidentally shot himself in the side while repairinghis .22 caliber rifle at his home Thurday night.

Police said Howard Hawk, of 439 Visitacion Ave., went to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco for treatment after the shooting.

He told investigating officer Rick Howle that while working on the rifle butt, the weapon discharged. The bullet struck him in the left side of his body, inflicting a superficial wound.

Hawk told police he thought the rifle was empty.

Teachers Asked To Okay Pact

Letters were mailed to South San Francisco teachers last week, asking them to accept a 4 to 9 per cent pay increase, plus 23 other "working conditions" provisions.

Teachers have been asked to mail responses to a post office box. They will be examined at 2 p.m., Aug. 23, by a committee representing the teachers and trustees.

School trustees approved the first reading of the 24 provisions at a meeting Thursday night.

Should the teachers approve the package, then the board would be able to vote the second and final reading of the provisions at the next meeting, thus insuring prompt increase of pay.

No one commented this week what course the board would take should the teachers turn down the package.

The 24 board policies have been agreed upon, after lengthy negotiation, by representatives of the teachers and the board, last May. However, a mass meeting of the teachers was called when the non-monetary board policies were approved, but the pay increase offer was rejected. Trustees, however, at the time, declined to separate the monetary and non-monetary provisions, saying that they were all an integral part of the give and take of negotiations.

The package includes policies on transfers, leaves, school calendar, teaching facilities, preparation period and promotion.

Teachers repeatedly have complained of the 9 per cent pay raise offered by the board. Only 4 per cent was assured. The remainder was contingent upon budget surpluses, which have failed to materialize, and the availability of additional state or federal money.

The Dills Bill, which provides more money for state education is still alive in the state Legislature. However, Dr. Nielsen conceded, at this time, it does not appear that South San Francisco can expect a great deal from it. Deadline for determining the contingency amount is Oct. 1.

Exceptions Anger Planners

Apartment Building Controversy in SSF

While on the verge of deciding whether to allow construction of a proposed apartment house whose driveway did not conform to certain standards, the South San Francisco Planning Commission was told that construction on many other similar guildings nearby were permitted even though they didn't conform either.

That matter was one of 14 considered by the commission in a long and busy meeting Aug. 13.

The driveway issue surfaced as commissioners discussed an appeal of an Architectural Committee requirement by Pat Brosnan and Co., who has proposed a four unit-4 car garage apartment building on a lot between 1033 and 1039 Grand Ave.

Brosnan is appealing a requirement that would not allow two parking spaces in the garage to be situated with only one 10-foot wide access driveway. The project could not be approved unless this requirement was overruled.

But the commissioners appeared opposed to ruling for Brosnan, and the staff expressed fear that permitting the exception would set a precedent for future such construction.

Brosnan then surprised both commissioners and staff by reading off a list of seven buildings in the area that he claimed had the same kind of driveway access he was proposing. Zoining Administrator William Costanzo said, "Some standards had to be established," and Commissioner Roberta Teglia complained she was "annoyed at the list of exceptions."

Brosnan admitted he was told by Architectural Committee member George Avanession in 1972 that a better access drivewwy was needed for the project to be approved. But Brosnan argued that it was "reasonable to believe" it would be okayed because of all the supposed exceptions that had already been granted.

That view was shunned by Commissioner Eugene Mullin, who said it had been indicated the parking plan was not desirable and that Brosnan was simply taking a "reasonable risk" in speculating that this method would be approved.

The commission decided to delay action on the appeal until checking the apartments noted by Brosnan and discussing it with the City Council at the Aug. 21 joint session. A decision on the Brosnan proposal is expected Aug. 27.

In another matter, the commission directed the staff to present a list of candidates selected for two positions on the Architectural Committee at the Aug. 27 meeting.

Committee vacancies resulted in the resignation about two months ago of Charles Lewis and George Nakada from the three-man body.

City staffers Ron Belcher and Costanzo have been serving as interim members. Avanession, an architect, is the third member.

The commission did agree that the committee should include a registered architect; landscape architect, and design professional. A suggestion that one of the members be a planned commissioner was turned down.

Chief duties of the architect committee relate to building and site design (landscaping).

And in another lengthy discussion of an item before the commission, the Stonegate housing development had two proposed signs denied and a decision on a third tabled.

The signs, all located along the El Camino Real, would direct motorists to the partly-completed complex. Signs for Hickey Boulevard and Chestnut Avenue were turned down and the third, planned for the southwest corner of Westborough and El Camino, was delayed until a decision could be reached Aug. 27.

The Planning Commission Tuesday also:

✓Decided to hold a special public hearing Aug. 27 for a general plan amendment to delete the Miller Ave. extension between Chestnut and Willow Ave.

✓Approved construction of a 3 foot by 125 foot sign for the Carpenter/Offutt Paper Co. at 333 Oyster Point Blvd. Commissioners Slade and Homer Hale objected to the placing of the address on the sign, since the company's name would identify the property. Executive Vice President Ted Carpenter said the suggestion to delete the address would be considered.

✓Approved United Cold Storage application to construct a 5,000 square foot refrigerated warehouse addition at 233 East Grand Ave.

✓Approved an application of Natalino Lucchesi to construct a four unit apartment building in the C-2 zone located at the southeast corner of Baden and Maple Avenues.

Approved an application of Cabot, Cabot and Forbes for the resubdivision of 11.25 acres of land located southwesterly of the intersection of Forbes Boulevard and Point San Bruno Boulevard.

"THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST
Jack Worthing (Michael Nicholson) right, is caught in the act of "bunburying" by his best friend Algernon Moncrieff (Jeff Wilbur) in the Southgate Theater Company's final two performances of "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Southgate to Stage Final Performances

The Southgate Theater Company, performing in Daly City for the first time this summer, will bring to an end its nine-week community theater program on Aug. 23 and 25, when "The Importance of Being Earnest" is performed for the last time.

Received warmly by the Daly City community and welcomed by local drama reviewers as "a bright light on the community theater scene," the North County theater company expects a good turn-out for its last two performances.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" is a delightful, gay-nineties comedy dealing with the consequences of "bunburying" — that is, pretending to be some one else in order to be able to lead a life of pleasure in London.

The Southgate Theater Company performs at the United Methodist Church, 1474 Southgate Ave., Daly City. Curtain will be at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, and a donation will be required at the door.

For details call 359-3871.

Bilick states that the brunch will give the members of the congregation and of the local community an opportunity to meet Rabbi and Mrs. Book on a social level, rather than in the formal atmosphere of a religious service.

The committee consists of: Mmes. George Bilick, Melvyn Gold, Herbert Goldman, Henry Fuhs, Jonah Miller, Milton Potak and Hal Stehman. Congregation B'nai Israel is located at 1575 Annie St., Daly City. For details call the Synagogue office at 756-5430.

The event will be held Aug. 26 at the home of Mrs. Leonard Greendorfer, president of the Sisterhood. Admission is by invitation only and information may be had by calling Mrs. Greendorfer at 992-0968.

Spindrift Players to Stage 'Cactus Flower'

A light-hearted fable about a philanderer who wants to enjoy casual love affairs without risking marriage will be the next presentation by the Pacifica Spindrift Players.

The play is "Cactus Flower," which ran on Broadway for over 2½ years. Written by Abe Burrows, the canny author of "Guys and Dolls," "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and a number of other stage successes, this comedy, based on a popular French farce, will open Sept. 13, at Oddstad Park Center, 1000 block of Crespi Drive Pacifica.

Marj Heise will appear as Stephanie, a Cinderella seemingly as thorny as the cactus plant she keeps on her receptionist's desk in a fashionable dentist's office. Appreciated by the deceiving dentist, Julian (played by Gary Nelson), for her starchy efficiency, she is ignored by him as a "person" until he persuades her to rescue him from a jam in his love life.

Candi Rettig appears as the dentist's girl friend and Al Schilf as her neighbor.

Sydney Clark is directing the comedy and has designed the settings that range from the dentist's reception room to his girl's pad, from the record shop where she works to a night-club where two of the plays most amusing scenes take place.

Tickets are available from any member of the cast or may be obtained in advance by writing the Players at P.O. Box 1176, Pacifica, CA 94044.

SSF Schools Set Hours

rustees of the South San Francisco Unified School District Thursday night reestablished their policy of beginning class at 8 a.m. at the high school level and at 8:30 a.m. for lower grades, when school opens in September.

However, trustees authorized District Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen to recommend a change in classroom hours if Congress fails to repeal winter Daylight Savings Time and if it is found that children are traveling to school in the dark.

The district moved beginning classroom hours ahead one-half hour last December, five days after Congress established year-around Daylight Savings Time. Trustees responded to complaints from parents that their children were walking to school in the dark.

Child With The Noose

Hail to the child with the noose who has returned to write for us; who thinks like a fifth grader and writes like a first grader. Hail to the miracle that fills a youth who possesses little experience and less knowledge with the unmitigated gall to attack the servants of the people and even the people themselves.

Why hold council meetings and board meetings in the cities of San Mateo County, the strippling with the noose has pronounced all that is done in all the meetings of all the cities and districts as wrong. Only he with his rope and his syndic is right.

Councilmen, supervisors, school-board members, mayors, governors, legislators, what do they know? They have served the public for five, 10, 15 or 20 years, but the boy with the noose knows more than they.

What does it matter that he speaks with no more knowledge of public affairs than one can gain from funnybooks? What does it matter that he has not learned that every sentence must have a subject and a predicate? What does it matter that he writes like a bully-blustering and brow-beating — with a raw hide that he calls freedom of the press? It matters not at all. Just ask him.

Freedom of the Press! Its greatest enemies are writers who spray offal matter across pages of newsprint; who becloud issues with catchy but fatuous phrases.

Freedom of the Press! If we ever lose it, it may be because it is misused by journalists who deal in distortions and misstatements.

DOES FREEDOM of the press mean that the public must be more broad-minded than the columnists? Does it require merchants to buy advertising in "rags" that attack the fabric of American fair-play? Does it mean that a reporter with a by-line can slash at officials with invectives and thrust harsh words into complex issues (some that have beset the area for as long as 50 or 70 years) yet never be called to assume responsibility for their work?

Freedom of the Press! The time has come to understand certain truths regarding it. Ralph Ingersoll, once editor of "Time," warns that isuse of this freedom inflicts a mortal injury that is filled with inherent poison. Incidentally, as he wrote, Ingersoll was speaking of a periodical that he left because its editors deal with the same methods that are the tools used by our boy with his rope and its noose.

Of columnists and periodicals that use the press for half-truths etc., Sir Bertrand Russel wrote they are "utterly shameless in its (their) willingness to distort."

Meanwhile, an editor from Cincinnati, Ohio wrote that if some writers "were selling applesauce instead of a weekly publication" they would be subject "to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act that requires that all such goods be labeled truthfully."

Ah that's it. It's applesauce we're getting from the boy with the noose. Just applesauce. It is funny and juicy, but it makes me sick.

GATHERING CROWD

Filipino Mass to Be Held Saturdays

The Filipino-American Association of Northern San Mateo County, including Daly City, Colma, South San Francisco, San Bruno and Pacifica, informs the Filipino communities that a mass in Pilipino at the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, 60 Wellington Avenue, Daly City, will be held every fourth Saturday of the month at 5:30 p.m.

A choir has been formed led by the Filipino Sisters of Saint Paul Convent. The mass will be also highlighted by the presence of the Statue of the Pilgrim Virgin — Our Lady of Fatima.

Meanwhile, through the requst of the Filipino and other interested parishioners of OLPH church, a weekly novena, a devotion to Our Lady of Perpetual Help "Nobena sa Ina ng Laging Saklolo" will be regularly celebrated every Friday at 7 p.m. Novena prayers and hymns are patterned after the Baclaran Church in the Philippines.

The FAA president of Northern San Mateo County, Marcelino M. Enriquez, also announces the opening of the Pilipino-English bilingual-bicultural classes at Westmoor High School, 131 Westmoor Ave., Daly City.

A joint effort of the Filipino parents of WHS and the FAA officials brought to the attention of Clayton Kollman, Westmoor principal; Pablo T. Perez, asst. principal-guidance; Ernest Ribera, asst. supt. of instruction of JUHSD and Mrs. Jane Powell, JUHSD schoolboard member that a "crying need" for a bilingual-bicultural program for Filipinos is needed in the district. The parents were represented by Mr. Bautista, a social worker; Mrs. Mariano, a schoolteacher; Dr. Jose Pandes, while the FAA was represented by its president, Enriquez, who himself was a former Philippine high school principal.

The group had sat and discussed with the school and district officials the importance of such a program to help solve the existing communication gap between the teachers and Filipino students.

This program will eventually provide students a better opportunity to express themselves freely and naturally without fear of being criticized due to their English usage. Students in this program are given a combination of Pilipino (Tagalog) and English presentation depending on individual needs. The teaching team is composed of Filipino teachers and teacher aides.

Due to its highly concentrated accent on individualized instruction and group learning situations, this program guarantees each student an opportunity to progress at his own rate of learning and thus improve his academic achievement.

Local Artists Exhibit At Mountain Fair

North County residents Pat and Roy Wirtz, Woody Knudsen, and Melvin Levy are among the 200 artists invited to exhibit at the 11th annual King's Mountain Art Fair, which is open to the public without charge Aug. 31, through Sept. 2.

From 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, fair-goers can stroll the grounds of the wooded site of the King's Mountain Community Center-Firehouse at 13889 Skyline Blvd. above Woodside.

Art-in-Action, one of the traditional highlights for viewers during the past 10 years, again will be featured by several of the painters, graphic artists, potters, leatherworkers, woodcarvers, weavers and spinners, stained glass craftsmen, sculptors, jewelers, metal workers, glassblowers, candlemakers and other craftsmen who have accepted the invitation to exhibit in the juried show.

Residents of the rural community will serve food throughout the day starting with breakfast at 9 a.m. Members of the Skyline 4-H Club will operate "Kiddie Hollow," a secluded, supervised area where children can paint, play and participate in games of chance while their parents browse.

Proceeds from the show, which is sponsored by the King's Mountain Association, will be used for the benefit of the Community Center and the Volunteer Fire Brigade.

The firehouse, designed by local resident architect John Cole, has been built by community residents using monies derived from previous art fairs. Officers hope that this year's art fair will enable them to finish the building and buy needed fire fighting equipment for the volunteer firemen.

Mrs. John Cole is general chairman of the show, which has become more popular each year. She can be contacted at 415-851-0185 for details.

Rehearsals Scheduled

Rehearsals will begin Sept. 2 for the new season of the Masterworks Chorale. The 100-voice group was founded in 1964 by its director, R. Galen Marshall, under the auspices of the Department of Community Services of the College of San Mateo. Rehearsals will begin on the Labor Day holiday evening as the repertoire is difficult and will need maximum preparation before the presentation.

The opening concert Dec. 15, with professional orchestra and soloists, will be Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis." The spring concert will feature the premiere performance of "The Lord's Prayer" by Charles Gustavson, a member of the music faculty of the College of San Mateo. The composition, commissioned by the Community Services Division using texts by Buckminster Fuller, is scheduled for performance in May of 1975 with professional orchestra, soloists and jazz ensemble.

Persons interested in membership in the Masterworks Chorale should plan to attend the first or second rehearsal at 7:15 p.m. on Sept. 2, or Sept. 9, in the Choral Room in Music Building 2 to arrange for an audition.

Two Hurt In Camino Collision

Two San Franciscans were hospitalized last Wednesday night after the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car on El Camino Real north of Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco.

Betty Hogue, 29, a passenger on the motorcycle driven by Richard W. Hofsiss, 22, was reported in satisfactory condition in the intensive care unit of Kaiser Hospital, South San Francisco.

According to hospital officials, she received multiple lacerations, a possible concussion and a fractured leg.

Hofsiss, meanwhile, was reported in satisfatory condition at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame. Officials said he also sustained a fractured leg.

Police said the accident occurred about 9:30 p.m. when the motorcycle apparently crossed over the center of the road and struck the right front fender of a car driven by Sharon Schmidt, also of San Francisco, who was southbound.

Serramonte Orientation Scheduled

Orientation for all students new to Serramonte High School will be held August 29, at 9 a.m. in the school gym.

All incoming freshmen, as well as other students enrolling for the first time, have been asked to attend this orientation. Beginning with a rally and ending with a student-guided tour of the school, the new student is made to feel at home and welcome. "Starting regular classes will be a lot easier for having had this experience," said Mrs. Laurie Cahill, assistant principal-guidance, "We urge all incoming freshmen to participate in the program."

Serramonte High School will begin its Fall semester Sept. 10 at 8 a.m. Any student wishing to enroll at Serramonte may do so anytime throughout the summer.

Late registration may mean that some classes may have closed, therefore, new students are urged to enroll before Sept. 1.

LS Schools To Open Sept. 10

The 15 schools of the Laguna Salada Union School District will open their doors to an expected enrollment of 7,490, kindergarten through eighth grade pupils, Sept. 10, the day following Admission Day.

Principals and secretaries have returned to their buildings, and parents are urged to register children new to the district.

Untypical of the local elementary district, new teachers have been employed for the upcoming school year. As in the past few years, a decline in student enrollment is expected, with an estimated decrease of 300-400 anticipated.

Only one building administration change has been made. Mrs. Jill Bartky will serve as the assistant principal at Pacific Manor School, replacing the retiring Mrs. Margaret Brant. All other schools will be directed by the same administrative staff.

Pre-opening calendar for 1974-75, presented to the board Aug. 15, indicates that all school secretaries and clerks will spend a day in first aid training Aug. 28.

With the employment of only one school nurse for the entire District, the role of minor first aid becomes that of the secretarial staff. Other meetings, prior to the opening of the fall term, are scheduled for reading teachers, special education teachers, music teachers and site administrators.

According to Asst. Supt. Marvin Morganti, class lists will be posted at each school at the end of the day, Sept. 6.

Civic Ballet Performs at County Fair

With much surprise to the girls, television cameras from Channel 14 in San Mateo tpaed their performance.

PARACHUTE SCHOOL

Army Private Dave H. Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Garrison, 1348 Castro Ct., Pacifica, has received a parachutist badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Ft. Benning Ga.

During the first week of training, he underwent a rigorous physical training program and received instruction in the theory of parachuting.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

George Buchanan's Puppets, Finocchios

George Buchanan's famous puppet act is a big attraction in the special summer revue at Finocchio's in San Francisco. Buchanan, who came direct from eight weeks at the Dunes in Las Vegas, offers all his famous routines, including the Flying Nun and Mme. Melba . . . Al Stuetzle seems to add a new enticement to The Castaway's dinner menu almost every week. The genial general manager's latest item, which is already proving a favorite, is described as a "Polynesian Delight." It's tender medallions of filet, sauteed in burgundy and simmered in a special sauce . . . The beautiful vocalist now on stage nightly in the lounge of Hyatt House Burlingame is none other than Lori English, a polished veteran of show business who has entertained at major niteries throughout the Bay Area and on the Nevada circuit. Lori and her Trio are filling in for the vacationing Bob Lucas Trio. Remodeling of Hugo's dining room is scheduled to begin within the next two weeks, it was announced by General Manager Bob Williamson. . . . Before planning your next trek to South Lake Tahoe, contact the Park Avenue Tours office nearest you (the number to call on the Peninsula is 345-0488). They offer a choice of travel, plus generous bonuses and overnight accommodations. And if you're going as a large group, Park Avenue Tours will arrange for a bus and accommodations in a motel, plus bonuses. Charters anywhere, anytime and any place . . . Mr. and Mrs. Brannon of San Mateo were the winners of the all-expense-paid Family Holiday to Disneyland which was recently offered by Tanforan Park's Garden Restaurants. Jack Kuks, general manager of the San Bruno restaurant complex, is currently offering $300 worth of school clothes in another promotion sponsored by the Nine Garden Restaurants.

"I'M A BUYER"

Vince Licata, dapper owner of Vince's Seafood and Italian restaurant in San Mateo, has an excellent reason for taking a bulging wallet when he visits the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta each year. Vince, who has led away his share of Grand Champion steers purchased during the livestock auction, once again purchased the hefty Grand Champion (1,278 pounds), whose owner, Sandra Weddell, is a member of the Skyline 4-H Club. This year's prize winner went for $2 per pound at auction.

Tableside Cooking Is Phil Lehr's Feature

Phil Lehr has brought the art of tableside cooking to new heights of perfection in the Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco. Phil's staff does a masterful job on Steak Diane, Steak Shallot and other gourmet steak specialties cooked to order at the table and served flambe . . . Adrian Stickney's plush Shirt Tail in Palo Alto is a wise choice for couples out for a festive celebration. The dinner menu even has a special category, "Dinner For Two," which suggests Chateaubriand Bouquetiere and Rack of Lamb Bouquetiere. Gala happenings always call for a toast or two, and the Shirt Tail offers quite a choice of wines and champagnes. For those favorite tunes, Dodd Baker, the multi-talented pianoman, is very obliging with song requests in the lounge . . . General Manager Joe De Dio has booked a new group to entertain in the Ivory Coast Lounge of the Holiday Inn, Belmont. Called Daybreak, this four-piece band comes direct from a successful engagement on the Nevada circuit . . . After celebrating a first anniversary, it's back to normal business at Dick's Corner House in San Mateo. Did you know that owner Nino Chahvakilian also does a great amount of outside catering? His real specialty is an assortment of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres. . . .

Campaign Buttons on Display at Scotty's

Mary Lou Fox of Scotty Campbell's restaurant has collected many artifacts and antiques to stimulate the curiosity of her diners. On display at the entrance to the dining room and cocktail area is a collection of campaign buttons that date back to 1880. This award-winning restaurant in Redwood City is open seven nights a week serving prime beef, seafood and fowl . . . Whether small, medium, or extra large, pizza comes in many varieties at Romano's Italian restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. From plain cheese to the Combination (Italian sausage, salami, olives, anchovies, mushrooms), the tasty discs are oozing with your favorite ingredients. Full course Italian dinners, plus many Enrico specials are also served. The minestroni soup is a Romano's must . . . Lehr's Greenhouse restaurant in San Francisco is the only place in the Bay Area you can dine in a beautiful garden in full bloom. The exotic plants, lush ferns and towering banana palm trees form a delightful setting for the enjoyment of gourmet continental specialties such as Chicken Wellington .

Nick's Restaurants For Extensive Menus

The menu is extensive at Nick's restaurant and lounge, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Service begins at 10 a.m. (and that's seven days a week) for breakfast orders, which could be anything from French toast to Steak and Eggs. A special luncheon is served Monday through Friday which includes choice of soup or salad, entree, and beverage. Then there are seafood treats, soups, sandwiches, salads, and even a Low Calorie Special. Dinners come deluxe or a la carte. The Steve Romano Combo entertains for dancing Wednesday through Sunday. Banquet rooms are also available for private parties . . . Swensen's is just one of nine Garden Restaurants located on the lower level of San Bruno's Tanforan Park Shopping Center. Swensen's is known for its ice cream variety (at least 40 flavors) all made on the premises. A single cone weighs one-quarter pound, a double tips the scales at one-half pound. The quarts, handpacked to take home, are two pounds. All in all, Swensen's is the "heavyweight" ice cream champion.

Competitive Team Sports

We have used this space often in years past to advocate that competitive team sports shouldn't be introduced to children until ages 12-13 at earliest. We have always contended that when kids are ready for such activities, they will naturally gravitate toward them and that in the meantime we should leave them to their own free play, or at least to choose their own sides and dictate their own rules should they have early proclivities toward team sports.

Educators in physical fitness have periodically supported our views. The first we remember was Dr. Floyd Gonella (now an assistant supt. in the Jefferson Union High School District), when he was head football coach and athletic director at Terra Nova High School in the early '60s.

Just recently a United Press wire report quoted another authority's views on the subject.

Gale E. Mikles, chairman of Michigan State University's athletic department, said very strongly that America is overdoing its compunction to throw youngsters — especially six and seven year olds — into team competitive sports.

"The competitive spirit," he said, "comes too soon now for most children to handle, tearing down basic values taught at home and destroying valuable friendships.

"What organized sport really does with kids is to break down their own individuality and train them to fit into a system. It does not help them to develop their own personality," (or character?).

"First and second graders," continued Mikles, "don't belong in junior baseball or football leagues."

MIKLES' SUGGESTED alternative to such play is non-children should be developmental and instructional up until which is exactly what Gonella advocated a decade ago.

"We find," said Mikles, "that there are many things that can be thrown at a child too fast and that programs for chilren should be developmental and instructional up until their teens. Even at that point, competition should not be glorified or used as a destructive medium of education."

Mikels added that, as youths move into high school, they will probably want to compete, and only then should they be motivated to excel.

TONY BALLESTRASSE, currently the new proprietor of Boyd Puccinelli Bail Bonds but in his youth in the late '40s and early '50s a pitching phenom who could throw a baseball through the proverbial brick wall (a sore shoulder in his sophomore year at Mission High School even- tually did him in), looks at the protesting pro athlete of today who would appar- ently rather picket than play, with some disdain.

"When I was nine or 10 years old I used to hustle over to Jackson Playground in the Mission on winter Saturdays to beg my way into the "bums' games. Only that was a misnomer, because actually, the 'bums' games fielded mostly pros home for the winter who played all year around to keep sharp. And they weren't necessarily lower minor league players. There were guys out there from the Pacific Coast League when it was practically a third major league, and occasionally a big leaguer would show up, too.

"I want to tell you, they took those pick-up games seriously. They used to play for four/bits a man, and those

Millbrae to Open State Tourney

Millbrae's Joe DiMaggio baseball team faces Vallejo Wednesday night at 5:30 at San Jose's PAL Stadium in the opening round of the State tourney.

Millbrae, the defending State champ, will play 9 p.m. Thursday with a win against

(see Related Story Page 18)

Vallejo. A loss would mean a 2:30 Thursday starting time.

Jay Kiernan will pitch for Millbrae. He had a no-hitter going into the fifth inning in a semi-final game in last week's regionals.

Millbrae boasts an excellent hitting attack, led by catcher Mike Giusti, infielder-pitcher Ralph Costanzo and firstbaseman Jack Ferrari.

Giant Boosters To Los Angeles

The Giant Boosters will attend games with the Dodgers in Los Angeles Sept. 2 to 4, according to Booster president Allan Murray. Anyone interested in joining the club for these games can get more information by contacting Murray at P.O. Box 570, San Rafael.

Competitive Team Sports

guys would run into fences, throw at batters, and knock catchers over for that damned four/bits. That and pride, which is what it really amounted to. "I vividly remember once misjudging a fly ball in the last inning and letting a winning run in. I didn't even go back to the bench to collect my gear. I just took off and ran out of Jackson, because I knew there would be guys chasing me. I looked over my shoulder, and I was right. There were two grown men, both pro players, cursing at me, and they chased me almost all the way home. Man, those guys were REAL pros."

THE HIGHLIGHT of Ballestrasse's career was when he met Babe Ruth, just before the Bambino died. Ruth was in San Francisco and showed up at Seals Stadium to watch a kids' charity baseball program. As usual, Ballestrasse was the youngest and smallest player on the field, and Ruth admiring Tony's pluck, invited him to sit in his box during the second game of the double-header.

When Ballestrasse arrived Ruth insisted that Tony sit next to him, causing many seat shifts in the box. When Tony was settled in, Ruth leaned over and, in that graveled voice being ravaged by cancer, whispered to Tony, "Now kid, if a foul ball comes this way, I want you to jump up and grab it so that I won't look bad. My reactions aren't what they used to be, you know."

The Ruth incident was also Tony's biggest disappointment in baseball. He had Ruth personally autograph two new balls for him, and Tony made the mistake of leaving them in his dressing enclosure when he went to the showers after the games. When he came back, the balls were gone. Fortunately, the memories of Ruth can never be lost.

TEMPERS EDGY IN LOCAL PLAYOFFS

A double play turned into a minor squabble Thursday in the Joe DiMaggio League Regional Tournament at Marchbank Field in Daly City. Lou Medrano (5) of Daly City's Flying Goose, one out in the double play, got involved in a disagreement with Millbrae's Bob Warfield (1). Millbrae won 5-3 to advance to the championship round.

Sunday Funnies Victorious

The Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, has completed its second rund of play at Westlake Park.

The Sunday Funnies scored another win by defeating Diamond Heights with a score of 10-8. The game proved to be very tight until the seventh inning, when the "Funnies" pulled ahead with three runs. Diamond Heights waged a strong defense but were not able to score enough runs to win the game.

Byrd's Trucking also scored its second win with an easy victory of 9-4 over the Native Americans.

With two weeks down, both the Sunday Funnies and Byrd's Trucking each have two wins to their credit.

Serra Basketball Coach Resigns

Serra High varsity basketball coach Pete Newell Jr. has said he will leave the school to take a similar post at Santa Cruz High.

Newell was with Serra one year; he guided the Padres into the WCAL playoffs. He had succeeded Jim Brovelli, who also took the team to the playoffs in a one-year stay before moving o University of San Diego.

Newell's move was the latest in a spate of county prep coaching changes, most of which concerned Jefferson High.

Earlier this summer Neal Dahlen, head baseball and assistant football coach at Hillsdale, took over as head football coach at Mills. He replaced Bob Field, who resigned his head coaching duties.

Don Lembi, frosh-soph baseball and assistant football coach at Capuchino, took Dahlen's place at Hillsdale.

At Jefferson, Tom Martinez resigned as head football coach and was replaced by Jack Burgett from San Francisco State.

Martinez will continue to coach baseball, and has also joined the College of San Mateo grid staff as offensive backfield coach.

Burgett will also replace Ed Johnson as wrestling coach. Johnson will stay on as athletic director and cross country coach.

Millbrae Tops Flying Goose

Millbrae advanced to the championship round of the Joe DiMaggio League Regional Tournament at Daly City's Marchbank Field Thursday with a 5-3 win over Flying Goose of Daly City.

Millbrae had to beat San Francisco Kiwanis twice to win the tourney.

Tom Frederico and Ralph Costanzo drove in single runs and Mike Giusti accounted for two more in a four-run Millbrae third inning.

Millbrae pitcher Jay Kiernan (a post-regular season addition from San Mateo) had a no-hitter going into the fifth, but had to leave the game with an arm injury.

John Tulich held FG the final two innings, though he had to pitch with the tying runners on in the sixth.

Tulich, Costanzo, Giusti and Jack Ferrari had two hits for Millbrae. Dale Edleman and Lou Medrano had two safeties each for Flying Goose.

FARMER OF THE YEAR

Farmers Market celebrated its 31st anniversary Saturday with an awards ceremony honoring George Ferrari who was crowned with a coronet of garlic as Northern California's "Farmer of the Year." Seen crowning Ferrari is San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto. This ceremony dates back to Baylonian times when garlic was awarded for meritorious service.

Trustees Discuss Recommendations

Laguna Instruction Report Released

The Laguna Salada School Board got its first chance to discuss recommendations from a detailed study of the district's upper grade instruction programs Thursday night.

Focus of the recently released report, conducted by Lloyd F. Scott, John P. Matlin, and J. Chester Swanson of the School of Education at the University of California, Berkeley, was based on a similar 1968-69 study of the school district.

All three educators were involved in that report too. The new study said that "The re-examination by the same staff members, after the passage of five years, permits an efficiency in procedures and focus of perceptions not possible in an isolated survey."

Supt. James Brien said the next step for the district is to discuss findings of the report at an Aug. 26 meeting between school administrators, staff and principals. The board periodically will be asked to approve certain programs developing out of the study's recommendations, with the intent to implement a value system or philosophy for the upper grades.

Among recommendations made on Tuesday were:

☐A written document of the hierarchy of values which will guide future decisions regarding the upper grade program should be prepared. The purpose of the paper is to get the district's goals on paper. The report said the preparation of this document should be "under the direction of a group which is broadly representative of the school district at large and that the assigned numbers of participants not favor any group, not even upper grade teachers." It said the group should be able to deal with the "difficult philosophical, theoretical and practical issues involved."

☐The movement toward the establishment of departmentalized junior high school type cnters should be ceased. "The children of the (district) will be better served by a non-departmentalized organization for upper grades," the study said. It also indicated that should a decision be reached favoring a junior high school organization, then the survey team would support only the develoment of a "bona fide junior high school."

☐District personnel policies should be thoroughly examined. The report said that the "increasing predominance of appointment of high school teachers to fill seventh and eighth grade teaching assignments merits careful study and justification. Similarly, if . . . judged that the subject matter exprtise is to be a principal criterion in the appointment of teachers at these levels, the widespread practice of teacher assignment to areas of non-expertise needs to be questioned." The team recommended that higher priority be given to demonstrated excellence in teaching in future appointments.

☐A district-wide curriculum committee should be established and armed with "status and influence." It said "a strong and viable curriculum committee has proven to be a good means for bringing important program considerations at all levels into the open and a good medium for initiating the deliberations necessary for forward movement." The report found that the present curriculum committee has neither the status nor level of activity to become the necessary powerful force in this process, and that it should be "reorganized or disbanded in favor of an influential, involved and committed curriculum leadership group."

Another area where the survey team said it devoted much consideration was in "apparent insufficiencies of instructional resource in the district due to its low wealth status."

The report disagreed with the contention of most teachers, principals and consultants that blamed lack of funds for weaknesses in the upper grade program. Instead, it said that the "isolated infusion of more funds, even if they became available, would have little effect upon programs at this time."

The board members and staff discussed each recommendation briefly at the meeting, but took no strong position on any of the items.

The survey team compiled the report after visiting the district's seven schools with seventh and eighth grades. The team report stated that though there were differences in the instructional programs from each school, the similarities were striking enough to afford a profile for the upper grades program.

North County Demos Hold Annual Picnic

Politicians, awards and picnicking characterized the second annual public picnic of the North County Democratic Association on Aug. 17 at the San Bruno City Park.

Congressman Leo J. Ryan (D. San Mateo) joined State Senators Arlen Gregorio (D-San Mateo) and George R. Moscone (D.-San Francisco) in brief "unity" speeches and informal conversations with those in attendance.

The Otis Mills family of Millbrae won a round trip for two to Washington, D.C., for four days. They will stay at the Hilton Hotel and travel via American Airlines. Mills works for TWA, in the freight department.

While in Washington, the winners will tour the Capitol, the White House and the Justice Department, arranged by Ryan. A trip to Sacramento and lunch with Senator Moscone and Assemblyman Louis Papan were won by Alice Kochman of San Mateo. Mrs. Kochman is the wife of Democratic Central Committee Chairman Al Kochman.

Congressman Ryan said, "It felt like a cloud was being lifted in Congress following the resignation of President Richard Nixon. You're surprised how much pressure and tension you can live with and you don't realize how much it is until it's gone," he continued.

Senator Moscone, who will be running in the newly created Sixth District in San Mateo County, discussed the public housing bill recently vetoed by Gov. Ronald Reagan. A similar bill should be voted out of committee and on the Governor's desk by today, he said. It calls for state supported low-income housing. The original veto was sustained by a scant two votes in the State Senate.

Moscone said he hopes to muster full Democratic support and that of a few Republicans as well.

"This is a bill all of the people of the state can support. It speaks to the basic need for housing," the Democratic majority floor leader stated.

Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Jean Fassler of Pacifica attended with Pacifica City Councilman Sid Lorvan to the delight of seven students who are visiting and studying in Pacifica. The students, most of whom come from Paris, France, are living with families in the coastside area.

Congressman Ryan attempted to explain the capricous nature of California summer fog to the students, who couldn't understand why Pacifica was fog-bound and San Bruno clear and sunny at the same time.

The students questioned Representative Ryan about the change of power in Washington, with comparison to the recent elections in France. They were impressed with the orderly transition during the recent U.S. governmental crisis.

Ryan explained that he, too, was excited by the process, but views President Ford as a man who represents ideals different from those of the Democratic party.

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor of BBB Barometer
PART TWO

A home solicitation contract must contain the following statement in a size equal to at least 10-point bold type, in an area near the space resrved for the signature of the buyer.

"You, the buyer, may cancel this transaction at any time prior to midnight of the third business day after the date of this transaction. See the attached notice of cancellation form for any explanation of this right."

The agreement must contain on the front page, in type of the size generally used in the body of the document, the name and address of the seller where the notice is to be mailed and the date the buyer signed the agreement.

The attached "Notice of Cancellation" in duplicate must be written in type of at least 10-point and be written in the same language as used in the contract. It must specify that the transaction can be cancelled without any penalty or obligation within three business days from the date of transaction.

Also included:

"If you cancel, any property traded in, any payments made by you under the contract or sale, and any negotiable instrument executed by you will be returned within 10 days following receipt by the seller of your cancellation notice, and any security interest arising out of the transaction will be cancelled.

"If you cancel, you must make available to the seller at your residence, in substantially as good condition as when received, any goods delivered to you under this contract or sale, or you may, if you wish, comply with the instructions of the seller regarding the return shipment of the goods at the seller's expense and risk.

"If you do make the goods available to the seller and the seller does not pick them up within 20 days of the date of your notice of cancellation, you may retain or dispose of the goods without any further obligation. If you fail to make the goods available to the seller, or if you agree to return the goods to the seller and fail to do so, then you remain liable for the performance of all obligations under the contract."

To cancel any transaction, a signed and dated copy of the cancellation notice, telegram of other written notice must be delivered to the seller's place of business no later than midnight three business days from date of transaction.

This is not a complete coverage of all conditions and requirements a contractor is required to meet in a home solicitation. To protect himself, a contractor should consult legal counsel for a full explanation and for assistance in complying with the legal requirements.

Tanforan Park Shopping Center

California's Junior Miss Exhibit

Local residents will have the opportunity to view the faces of America's 50 outstanding senior high school girls beginning Aug. 30, when a unique portrait gallery of the state winners in America's Junior Miss Pageant opens at Tanforan Park Shopping Center, El Camino Real and Sneath Lane, San Bruno.

The photograph of California's 1974 Junior Miss, Sharon Fox, 18, of San Rafael, will be among the portraits to be displayed in the "visual citizenship program" organized by the Professional Photogrpphers of America, Inc. (PP of A).

Titled "Our Nation's Junior Miss Faces of 1974," the exhibit will be open to the public from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday; 9:30 to 5:30 Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Fox, who was the third runnerup in the national Peageant, will open the exhibit at 9:30 a.m. on August 30. In the Pageant, she was awarded college scholarships totaling $2,500.

Each portrait in the traveling gallery was specially taken by a PP of A Master of Photograhy — men and women who have earned the association's highest recognition for artistic and professional competence. Miss Fox's photograph was taken by PP of A Master George F. Perry, of 631 Western Dr., Richmond.

"The gallery is designed to give Americans a closeup look at our country's outstanding girls," said John E. Smucker, president of PP of A. "The faces reflect the personality, character and enthusiasm which contribute to the good citizenship qualities so evident in their records of scholastic and community achievements."

PP of A is the oldest and largest organization of professional photographers in the world, with more than 16,000 individual members and 160 affiliated local, state and regional associations.

America's Junior Miss Pageant is a nationwide program to recognize, reward and encourage excellence in young people. Since 1958 the Pageant has selected the outstanding high school senior girls in the 50 states from among thousands who participate in local Pageants in more than 1,500 communities. Educators, parents, civic organizations, government officials and business leaders are actively involved in the program — including hundreds of local Jaycee chapters.

License Fee Exemption Announced

San Mateo County families who provide foster parent care and day care to aged, mentally disabled and retarded persons in their homes will not have to pay a proposed license fee to operate such facilities.

Robert D. Rippeto, director of the social services division of the County Department of Health and Welfare, said last week that legislation waiving fees of $40 to $55 a year has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The proposed fees were included in the Community Care Facilities Act of 1973 which required that the State Department of Health recover its licensing, inspection and monitoring costs from the facilities affected.

However, subsequent legislation waived the fees following many letters and petitions protesting the proposal.

The exemption, Rippeto said, applies to homes serving six or fewer persons.

SSF Mayor Cites Mandate for Safety Complex

By JACK BIK

A mandate was expressed in the June 4 election for building a new police-fire facility in South San Francisco, Mayor Terry Mirri declared at a press conference last Wednesday.

The conference was called in the wake of an opinion survey currently being circulated to determine if a majority of South San Francisco residents would sign a petition to recall four city councilmen.

The Vigilant Voters Committee initiated the survey because the council voted to proceed with plans to build a new public safety complex despite the narrow defeat of a $4.4 million bond issue to finance such a facility, according to VVC president.

Mirri cited a 63.9 per cent backing for the complex, while only 36.1 per cent backed the stand of the VVC (63.9 per cent voted for the bond issue June 4; 36.1 per cent opposed it, short of the two-thirds needed for approval.)

It is not cities, he declared, but the state which sets the standard of a two-thirds vote needed to pass a bond issue.

Mirri said he was unconcerned about the petitions currently being passed by the VVC in order to test public sentiment for recalling the four councilmen.

"I would like to see the actual number of persons who sign the petitions, rather than any percentage figures they may give," Mirri declared.

He said, "This council will not be intimidated by any one splinter group."

The VVC, he charged, is not for progressive city government, which he defined as "meeting the needs of a growing city."

The senior citizen group he said, uses a former Salvation Army store, the parks and recreation department used to operate out of in a converted bowling alley, and the city hall, now being rehabilitated, was built in 1918 and 1920.

The city's police facility was built in 1949, for a force of 16 officers and for a population of 19,000, he stated.

"All of these items could have been taken care of at a much lower cost if they could have been done earlier."

He admitted that the VVC was formed, in part, to support his candidacy, but, he asserted, during his campaign, he supported a new police facility.

The facility is needed critically, he declared, not only because of the recent Department of Corrections report, condemning the present jail, but because of the California Occupational Health Act of 1973 requiring 90 square feet per employe. The 90 police department employes have some 36 feet per person, he said.

"This council," he declared, "is not for sale, either for money or for any bloc of votes from any one group. We will try to meet the needs of the entire city."

He said his decision to vote for the lease-purchase plan was the toughest he has had to make, since he knew that he would antagonize his supporters in the VVC.

Answering charges that there was no way to pay for the lease payments for the fire-police facility, Mirri pointed to an austerity program that the city is putting into effect.

The cost of running the city can be cut down by increased efficiency without cutting any services out, he declared.

Reagan Inks SM County Transit Bill

The bill authorizing San Mateo County electors to decide if a countywide transit district shall be formed was signed late last Wednesday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor's action clears the way for the county's Board of Supervisors to place the proposal on the ballot in the Nov. 5 general election.

The legislation, authored by Assemblymen Dixon Arnett, R-Redwood City, and Louis Papan, D-Daly City, was approved unanimously by the Assembly Aug. 5.

If approved by the voters, the transit district would direct development of a local bus system and eventually the extension of mass rail transit into this county.

Officer Injured In Chase

A Pacifica police officer suffered a compound leg fracture early Thursday morning, when he fell from a fence he was climbing in pursuit of three juveniles.

Treated at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, was officer Bob Lavoie.

Police report Lavoie fell from the fence while he and Officer William Wipprecht were chasing a 15-year-old Pacifica youth, an escapee from Glenwood Boys Ranch, who reportedly stole a motorcycle. With the youth were two other juveniles, a boy 15 and a girl 16.

Police said a Pacific Manor resident noticed the youths walking through her yard and called police.

In trying to reach the yard in the most expedient manner, the police officers climbed a fence, but the ground was low on one side, and in the early morning darkness Lavoie lost his footing.

Summer Dance

The Daly City Recreation Department invites all interested residents to attend the 1974 Summer Dance Revue at the War Memorial Community Center.

The colorful "card party" theme will feature members of the Junior and Senior Civic Ballet as well as beginning, advanced beginning and intermediate students in tap and ballet.

The dance program is under the instruction of Diane Roberts. This production marks the close of the summer instruction program, and classes for the fall and winter months will be announced in September.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. and there is no admission charge.

Med Society Fights Fines

The San Mateo County Medical Society has announced that it will go to court to fight a pair of $500 fines issued by the State Public Utilities Commission.

The fines were imposed for allegedly violating a PUC cease and desist order which would have prohibited the society from using a particular radio frequency for its paging service.

Fined were the society and its executive director, Gene Taylor.

The society, in a prepared press release, says that it has not had a hearing on the matter and that the PUC has no jurisdicton in this case anyway.

"It is the society's contention that only the Federal Communications Commission has jurisdiction over the society in this area," the statement says.

Landmark Study Set

The South San Francisco City Council Monday told its staff to fully investigate the feasibility of restoring the old Martin house at 801 Grand Ave. as an historical attraction.

The structure, a two-story shingle-sided home built in 1892 for William Martin, referred to as the father of the industrial city, was more than half destroyed by fire two weeks ago, according to City Manager Ed Alario.

Alario said speedy action on the building's future was being urged by the city's fire and building inspection departments, because they consider it unsafe.

The South San Francisco Library Board for years has sought the property to convert the house into a museum after restoration.

There had been some State historical interest up to three or four days prior to the fire, Alario said, but after the fire the interest waned, he said.

Alario said restoration would cost "hundreds of thousands of dollars," not only because of the fire, but because of deterioration as well.

He said he personally believes other South San Francisco projects should have funding priority.

Mayor Terry J. Mirri said civic groups might be willing to participate in restoring the landmark.

Ground Cover Instead of Grass

By IVA NEWMAN

As homes move into the hills there are many situations where a ground cover is needed and where grass, the most popular ground cover of all is most unsuited.

A friend told us of just such a situation in her son's garden. This young man built his new home on a flat piece of property and put a swimming pool in close by. In order to get the privacy he needed for the pool area he had the soil dug out for the pool piled around the pool. He planned to plant trees around the top of this artificial ridge and some kind of a cover to make the steep side attractive. Lawn grass just wouldn't do as mowing would be too hazardous.

We have a steep slope in front of our house and some 16 years ago we planted it with Trachelospermum jasminoides, more commonly known as Star Jasmine. We have never regretted our choice of ground cover. It has required very little upkeep, has been neat and attractive every week of the year and, best of all, there has been no clean up work, an important item where a swimming pool is concerned.

Trachelospermum jasminoides (tra-kell-o-sper-mum jas-min-oi-des) is a showy flowered woody vine native to both Malaya and China. It is a high-climbing vine, without tendrils or aerial roots that does its climbing by twining. Leaves are evergreen, ovalish and short stalked. Flowers are star-like, white and beautifully fragrant. Our friends never fail to comment on this delightful fragrance and some of them claim that we have the best-smelling garden on the Peninsula.

Our slope was sandy, yellow clay. We dug a large amount of nitrogen-treated sawdust into this soil and soaked it deeply. We then set out gallon can sized plants, spacing them about two feet apart. They could be set one and a half feet or three feet apart, depending upon how fast you want the ground covered. We had a good cover in about three years.

Slow Growers

Most really good ground covers are slow growers and this Star Jasmine is no exception but once it covers the ground it is a joy forever. We used a thick mulch around the plants to cut down on the weed problem. We also pinned some of the strong side growths down with cut in half wire coat hangers that resembled large hairpins. We kept the soil moist under the mulch and we fertilized four times the first year with a half-strength solution. The second and third year we kept up the watering program and as the roots were well established by that time we fertilized just twice with regular strength fertilizer. Now we use a slow release, long-term fertilizer each spring and we water once a month or so. We also clip the plants after flowering once a year, just to keep them about 18 inches high. Our plants grow in both sun and shade.

Sarcococca humilis is a fine ground cover for shady areas. It too has fragrant white flowers but they are hidden among the dark green leaves with only their fragrance apparent. This ground cover reaches an average height of about 18 inches but spreads to six or eight feet by means of underground runners when given the same soil preparation and care described above. There are two other Sarcococcas but they make shrubs up to six feet tall. We have these shrubs and they are delightful when placed in a shady border. These plants will grow well where there is no sun at all.

Invasive

Another delightful ground cover is Hypericum calycinum that has somehow received the common name of Aaron's Beard. This is a spreading evergreen that came through the cold winter in a semi-deciduous condition. In fact our plant dropped about half its leaves every winter but it was most delightful in spring and summer when the medium green foliage was brightly splashed with bright yellow two to three inch flowers with masses of very showy stamens. Planted in the sun this plant will be a strong grower and quite invasive. However, it is much more controlled when planted in light shade. It is an excellent soil binder for steep slopes but it does need to be watered regularly and it does need to be cut back almost to the soil every two or three years to keep it neat.

Many of our friends that wanted a rather flat mat for a ground cover have planted Ajuga reptans which gets about six inches high and in the summer small blue flowers on six-inch spikes rise above the foliage. The soil for this ground cover should be prepared now, just as you would for grass and next month rooted branches or flat grown plants should be set out about eight to ten inches apart. These can be set out in spring but the young plants need much less care and fill in faster when set out in September.

Ice Follies: 'First Class'

There has been a shift in emphasis in the Ice Follies' extravanganzas. We used to go to see the gorgeous costumes and pretty girls and funny acts. Now spectacular skating and artistic choreography by Helen and Bob Maxson as executed by a hip-looking and attractive lineup of young champions is what makes this current show at Winterland so first class and superbly entertaining.

The veteran performers get better and the new additions are so remarkably expertise and daring that if they got any better it wouldn't make any difference.

And because there are so many soloists and fine adagio and comedy pairings, the show has no star, Mr. Frick and Richard Dwyer, notwithstanding. Each of the specially featured girls such as Karen Kresge, Susan Berens, Christy Ito and Suzanne Russel are so individually different that each is able to captivate the audience's attention and admiration without pushing any of them into a more imporant spotlight position.

Jay Humphry is fast and agile and skates "free skating style" like a speed demon with a daredevil heart. Atoy Wilson is virile and handsome and uses his body like a dancer against a contemporary soul and rock and roll beat. Richard Dwyer is cool and polished and does some very tricky and exicting lifts and dance patterns with his pert partner Susan Berens.

If the youngsters in the audience don't relate to the now obvious sensuality of the dancing and enticing byplay between the boys and girls (especially Ms. Kresge who really can turn on the heat and has a strong resemblance to the sexy Ann-Margret) they get their share of the program with a lengthy (actually it runs too long) routine based on the well-known Sesame Street gang of Big Bird, Betty Lu, Snuffle-upagus, Cookie Monster, Grover and The Count. Their songs get muffled through all the furry, fuzzy, shaggy, feathery animal costumes but their animation and antics tell the story.

Gone are the adorable little French poodles who used to scurry around the ice to the delight of children and parents both. Now the clowns skittle about on small bicycles in a comical display of balance and dexterity.

Mr. Frick hasn't changed his act in the past 10 years. He doesn't have to. He's a backbending marvel, shaping his body like a low table or a rigid mechanical doll. The audience knows a champion and accords him the howling, whistling, applauding tribute he desires.

But it's the specialty numbers that inch me to the edge of the seat and rivet my eyes in disbelief and total awe. David Comb, our Peninsula daredevil who flashes onto the ice with flaming skates and then sends chills up eveyrone's spine by jumping over five stacked crates, over and under kneeling girls, flipping high into a somersault from a trampoline and diving through a double rotating steel globe with jagged jaws that might close piercingly into his body if he is even a fraction of a second off beat, is not to be missed.

Nor are the graceful and dazzling acrobatics of Nancy and Leandre who do things with their bodies at high speeds that you'd only expect to see at an Olympic competition of gymnasts. They are simply beautiful to watch and are a stunning and enchanting team.

Judy and Jim Sladky are U.S. Dance Skating champions five times over and ranked third and second in world competition. They excel at interpretive folk dance skating in a new area of Ice Follies The ethnic flavor appears authentic as well as artistically tailored to include some breath-catching thrills.

But the finest moments of the show come from the elegantly poised and uniquely balletic movements of a tall Canadian brunette named Suzanne Russel. She is an exquisite figure skater with more grace and stately bearing than I've ever seen in an ice revue before. Her entire body from aristocratic nose to regal fingertips is incorporated into her dream-like routine. That she skates so well is only an extension of her enormous talent as a dancer.

And no matter how many times I see Hans Leiter juggle his balloon bosoms inside his female impersonation gown, eventually falling on them and making them deflate, I crack up. He takes so many falls, hits that ice so many times and with such a brutal sounding "splat" that all the slapstick laugh vents get a good airing. The audience, with me surely at therefore, bellows raucously with rib-aching force.

The man is a genious at eccentric skating as he uses every unorthodox trick in the business to crash head-on into a wall or catch the toe of his skate on a torso twisting, gravity defying sprawl across the ice.

There is unmatched charm in seeing the two talented sisters, Joy Lynn, age 11, and Suzy LeDuc, age six, incorporated into the big production numbers.

The costumes and girls are as glamorous as ever. But this year, it's the personality and style of the soloists that will have you agog and aglow for having spent your entertainment dollars in the right place.

Assessment Change Deadline Sept. 16

Assemblyman Louis J. Papan (D-Daly City) today reminded San Mateo County property owners that Sept. 16 is the final day for challenging their assessments.

"For example, if you believe the County Assessor's estimate of the full cash value of your home is higher than its actual market value, you may wish to take advantage of the appeals process. Not many people understand that there is nothing absolute and final about the Assessor's notice.

"Last year in San Mateo County there were 350 appeals and more than one-half resulted in lower assessments. Only two ended up with an increased assessment," Assemblyman Papan said.

Papan said property owners with a question about their assessments should take the following steps:

a First get in touch with County Assessor Jack H. Estes or one of his appraisers and review the records. Check for any obvious errors, such as the number of bedrooms in your home or the size of the lot.

a Bring along with you evidence of the sales price of comparable homes in your neighborhood.

a If, after this meeting, there is still a disagreement over your assessment, contact the Assessment Appeals Board at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, telephone 364-5600, Extension 2300.

Assemblyman Papan offered further advice on how best to obtain a favorable decision from the Assessment Appeals Board:

— Have the facts. The Assessor's office is basing its estimate on what it believes to be accurate market values in your area. Your best argument is that comparable nearby real estate is being traded for less than what your property has been assessed. (Other acceptable indications of market value are reflected by rents and the cost of replacing a property less depreciation.)

— Don't argue the suddenness of the change. If the market value estimate has increased sharply, it may be because last year's assessment was too low. And don't base your case solely on on other assessed values. Those assessments also may be too low, rather than your's being too high.

Assemblyman Papan invited persons with further questions about the assessment appeals procedure to contact his district office, located at Suite 343-B Serramonte Plaza, Daly City, (756-6400.)
